Mother Slashes Throats of Two Daughters, 2, 4

LEBANON, Ore. — A 30-year-old Lebanon mother slashed the throats of her two small daughters with a paring knife Wednesday and then called police to come pick her up.

Mrs. Helga Upham was taken to the State Hospital for the Insane at Salem. Police said the only statement she made was "I did it so he could live."

There was no immediate explanation for the slaying.

Police Chief Ned Griffin said his office got a call from Mrs. Upham in which she said: "Send police to my home, I just murdered my children."

Policeman Bill Boyd said he drove to the home and the mother walked to the police car and sat down. In the house, officers found a bloody paring knife and the bodies of Ruth, 4, and Lois, 2, in the bathtub, which was about half full of water.

The father, Graham, 34, said his wife had been depressed for the past month and was under a doctor's care. He is a laboratory technician at the Lebanon Community Hospital.

No charge was filed immediately.

Polio Cases Drop For Second Week

WASHINGTON — The Public Health Service reported today that polio cases dropped last week for the second straight week. It was further evidence that the 1956 season has passed its peak.

The service said 847 new cases were reported in the nation last week compared to 887 for the previous week. It was the smallest total for a comparable week of any year since 1947.

Knowland, Harriman Engage in Lincoln-Douglas Style of Debates

NEW YORK — Sharp barbs were exchanged by Sen. William F. Knowland and Gov. Averell Harriman Wednesday night in a television revival of the Lincoln-Douglas style of debates of 100 years ago.

The Senate minority leader from California and the New York governor faced one another by remote control. "The governor was in New York, Knowland in Columbus, Ohio, where he had gone to address the Republican state convention."

IN DEBATE STYLE, the Democratic governor and the Republican senator each had one minute to open four minutes for rebuttal, then three minutes for counter-rebuttal and 90 seconds for summations.

Harriman fired off the first salvo by charging President Eisenhower has failed to take a strong stand in the Suez crisis and that by so doing, he has made it possible for the Kremlin to enter the Middle East and influence Egypt.

'Ethel' Enters Storm Scene Off East Coast

MIAMI — A new tropical storm, 500 miles off the Florida coast, rapidly built up force today towards hurricane strength of 75 miles per hour.

Storm Ethel, fifth tropical whirler of the season, posed no immediate threat to the U.S. mainland, the U.S. Weather Bureau said.

A hurricane hunter plane located the storm's center over the Atlantic east of West Palm Beach, Fla., Wednesday midnight, moving on a north-northeastward course toward the open sea.

Ethel developed Wednesday among squalls churning for days about a low-pressure area in the Atlantic. A cold front moving down from Canada collided with warm air from the Caribbean and started the vast circular movement of a full-scale storm.

Gales fanned out for 125 miles as the squalls formed themselves into a turbulent ring around a calm center. They began a clockwise movement, picked up speed, and Ethel was born.

Dynamite Truck Explodes, 1 Killed

1000 Register To Vote During Campaign Here

Tonight is the last chance that local citizens have to register to vote at the coming presidential election.

Nick Mutascio, chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce registration committee, said today that the Jayceettes will stay on duty tonight until Safeway closes to give residents a last minute chance to register.

The booth that was set up by the Jaycees has registered more than 500 persons, hundreds more than was expected, and City Clerk Louise McCann said "the booth has served a tremendous service to the community, as well as relieving people from going the extra distance to the city hall."

The clerks at the city hall have also registered some 500 persons in the past two weeks.

Mrs. Harry Brott, 683 Indian Trail, will also be available to register late-comers tonight.

Every indication today shows that Western Week will be presented again this year, as the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce went on record as supporting the event, and will meet with members of the Los Compadres in an attempt to reverse the club's decision to discontinue its sponsorship of Western Week.

Following the Chamber's board of directors meeting this morning, President Earl Hough said that "the board voted unanimously to urge the Los Compadres to reconsider the announcement of last week, that 'they would not sponsor Western Week.'"

The Chamber has pledged its full support, and will make an appeal to all members and businessmen to express their interest in the annual event by making financial donations to the Los Compadres group to help stage Western Week.

A special meeting has been called by Adrian Rosen, president

Maine Recheck Gives GOP Seat

PORTLAND, Maine — A United Press recheck of ballots in Maine's Monday elections today gave Republican Rep. Robert Hale a 29-vote margin over his Democratic opponent, James C. Oliver, in the First District congressional race.

The recheck showed Hale 58,028 votes and Oliver 57,999.

The official returns will not be made known until Sept. 26 at the earliest. At that time, they will be canvassed by the Executive Council.

Deputy Secretary of State Paul A. MacDonald meanwhile called in the Hale-Oliver ballots and will impound them pending a ballot inspection request.

Building Group Organizes, Plans Election Sept. 25

Palm Springs' largest single profession, the local building contractors, held their first meeting Tuesday night to lay plans for the start of a new association.

To be organized on the same characteristics as the local hotel and restaurant association, the club will make it possible for contractors to "stabilize the craft and make it possible to combat the problems arising in the construction business."

Members at the first meeting showed great enthusiasm over the formation of the new organization, and set Tuesday, Sept. 25, as the date for election of officers.

E. A. Ryan presided over the first meeting as temporary chairman, and the meeting was held in the Los Compadres club house.

Members who made short talks outlined plans for the future of the organization were Henry Simarian, Les Smith, Art Brudwick and Leonard Wolf, Jr.

If any contractors are interested in information about the organization they are asked to call E. A. Ryan or Ted Morris at 2436 between 7 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. daily.

City May Refuse Miniature Offer

Because of the prohibitive cost of a new building and the maintenance of the collection, the City of Palm Springs may have to turn down the offer of Jules Charbonneau famous and priceless collection of miniatures.

The collection, consisting of 30,000 pieces, and shown to more than a million persons a year for the past 18 years, was offered to the city last week. Charbonneau said that other cities have asked for the collection but he had refused them in favor of Palm Springs, hoping that the collection could be established here on a permanent basis.

Talmadge Wins On States' Rights In Georgia Vote

ATLANTA — Herman Talmadge won a Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate today with a 4-to-1 vote his father, "old Gene" would have envied.

Young Talmadge, former two-term governor and crowd-sweeper at 43, claimed the victory as a "mandate" showing the nation that Georgia will fight for school segregation.

His battle cry of "save the states' rights" won him a sweeping triumph over an old-time political foe, former acting Gov. M. E. Thompson, in a bid for the seat of retiring Sen. Walter F. George.

Returns from 1,320 of the state's 1,854 precincts gave Talmadge 387,042 popular votes and 350 indicated county unit votes to 93,084 popular votes for Thompson. A total of 206 units was needed to win the nomination.

Soviet Sides With Egypt In Warning

Dulles Reports America Seeks Peaceful Solution

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON — Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin has sent a new message to President Eisenhower on East-West problems, it was announced today.

LONDON — Egypt served no notice on the West today that any attempt by a "users association" to take over operation of the Suez Canal "means war."

Soviet diplomats in London voiced a similar warning.

They said Russia wants to avoid any such conflict over Suez, but at the same time they let it be clearly understood that Russia would be among those nations providing Egypt both with volunteers and arms.

The Egyptian warning came in the midst of an angry international exchange of charges and counter charges in which the only conciliatory words came from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Jordan-Israel Border Raids Enter Third Day

JERUSALEM — Israel charged today that Jordanian infiltrators killed three village guards Wednesday night, increasing to 34 the number of Arabs and Israelis killed in three days of border incidents.

Israeli military spokesman Maj. Dan Gov said the guards were killed at Ein Ofarim, halfway between Beerseba and Elate.

Israeli sources said border incidents were on the increase since the start of the Suez crisis.

The British Foreign Office in London today expressed "strong disapproval" at what it said was the Israel government's "violation" of assurances to observe the cease fire.

At least 24 Arabs were killed Wednesday in what preliminary investigations showed were apparently Israeli incursions into Jordanian and Egyptian territory.

The slaying of the Israelis today was apparently Jordanian retaliation for Wednesday's raids by Israeli troops which, in turn, were believed to be retaliation for the death of six Israelis Monday.

Steer Fertilizer Ban Set by City

City Manager R. W. Peterson reported to the members of the city council this week that the use of steer fertilizer on new lawns is slowly decreasing and change-over is being made to chemical fertilizers.

He proposed to the city council that they approve the use of chemical fertilizer on city lawns, and the suggestion met with unanimous approval.

Research into whether steer fertilizer actually breeds flies is now under way, and the entire program of changing over is to stop the possibility of having a breeding place for them.

Labor War at Feather Falls Quiet After 3 Weeks Violence

FEATHER FALLS, Calif., (AP)—A union sound truck stood silent but ready today, a mute symbol in one of the most violent labor-management fights in recent years.

On the surface, townsfolk, mill workers and union pickets all went about their business quietly though somewhat warily.

"But if you were a suspicious individual, you would be looking right into the eye of a gun," one observer remarked.

The town itself seemed to be marking time until announcement of the outcome of high-level negotiations Friday in San Francisco between the Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union and the Georgia-Pacific Plywood Corp., owner of the mill.

"If NO AGREEMENT is reached, you can expect things to pop this weekend," the observer said. Things began "popping" three weeks ago when a railroad bridge across the south fork of the Feather River canyon was burned. The bridge was owned by the Feather River Pine Mills, the struck plant, and was its main link between here and the railroad yards at Oroville, Calif., 19 miles away.

The company posted advertisements in local newspapers for days offering $5000 reward for information leading to the conviction of the arsonists.

IN THE MEANTIME, the company built a truck bridge across the river and posted it with armed guards. Since then one truck driver was beaten, the home of a trucking executive was bombed and this week a lumber truck was blasted in an apparent attempt to knock it over into the canyon. No individuals have been seriously hurt.

The morning after the bridge burning, the AFL union stepped up picketing at the plant and introduced the sound truck. It blared such threats to non-union workers crossing the picket line as: "Go ahead and work behind that picket line. But when we get organized we'll run you into the pea patch. Then we'll organize the pea pickers and run you out of there."

WHILE THE SOUND truck set the pace, violence continued. Housewives were threatened that their husbands would be beaten if they continued work.

William W. Gamble, general manager of the mill, charged the union with the "acts of terrorism." But Luther Sizemore, international representative of the union, denied the union was connected with them in any way.

After the week-long "reign of terror," Sizemore said his bosses made him "pull the sound truck." At the same time, violence decreased to a minimum except for the truck dynamiting Tuesday.

"I HAD THEM JUST about whipped when they called me off," Sizemore said. He said he expected to replace the sound truck near the plant if Friday's negotiations fail.

The union went on strike two years ago, but the mill reopened a few months later with non-union help. Quiet picketing by two men was the extent of union activity until Sizemore was assigned to the mill three weeks ago.

Today armed guards are protecting the mill, the bridge, riding with the lumber trucks as escorting workers to and from work. And everyone seems to be waiting for the results of Friday's negotiations.

Beldina Enters L.A. Mayor Race

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Don Belding, vice president of the city Airport Commission and a noted advertising executive, has announced his candidacy for mayor of Los Angeles.

Belding said friends had urged him to run for the post in next April's municipal election. Incumbent Mayor Norris Poulson has announced he will not seek re-election after his term expires next July 1.

Howard Offers Civil Defense Water Proposal

Civil Defense Week in Palm Springs is being observed by Howard Manor Owner Bob Howard in a timely manner.

Howard, who has become one of the nation's foremost swimming pool exponents, has launched a campaign to marshal the desert resort city's 1,137 swimming pools as an important civil defense weapon.

In a letter to Mayor Florian G. Boyd, in which he proposed city government action along this line, the hotelman raised this point:

"That the water in Palm Springs' myriad of pools would be a precious reservoir in the event a bombing attack or some other catastrophe should damage Palm Springs' city water supply."

Howard, who is getting his desert resort ready for its Oct. 10 opening, feels that these millions of gallons of water could easily be pressed into service as a life-saving supply of water when pumped from pool to truck tanks such as fire departments use.

Accordingly, the sportsman and turf figure has suggested that the City of Palm Springs include portable water pumps and tank trucks among its civil defense paraphernalia.

WAR

In the House of Commons in London, during the second day of debate over the British and French plan to set up a "users association" for the canal, Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd made it clear the government had no intention of backing down from its firm stand that it will not allow the international waterway to remain under the sole control of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

DULLES ISSUED HIS "no war" statement minutes after the Egyptian ambassador warned him personally that it "means war" if the West carries out its plan to create a "users association" to run the canal.

Despite the warning, Dulles said the United States will join Britain and France in the association to "safeguard" the rights of shipping nations to free use of the canal. He appealed to Egypt to accept the plan at least as a temporary "working arrangement."

DULLES SPELLED OUT this country's Suez policy in a 700-word statement which President Eisenhower approved by telephone earlier today from his Gettysburg farm. He elaborated on the statement in answering questions at a packed news conference.

The secretary said the United States might have a right to go to war if the canal ever is closed. But he said it does not intend to. He emphasized he could not speak for other nations.

He said the United States does not intend to shoot its way through the canal.

If Egypt blocks the canal, he said, American ships will go around the Cape of Good Hope at the southern tip of Africa.

Dulles said it will not be catastrophic if the canal is shut down by Egypt. He disclosed the United States already has decided to take some tankers out of the mothball fleet to help carry oil and other Suez traffic around Africa.

New County Blaze Near Temecula Rages Out of Control, Eight Reported

By UNITED PRESS

The eighth in a series of major fires which broke out in dry Southern California forest and brushland regions after a four-day heat wave, burned out of control early today southwest of Temecula in Riverside county.

Firefighting crews had contained the fire after it had spread across 1,000 acres of brush between Deluz and the Santa Margarita River. However, it jumped fire lines and raced on.

U.S. Forest Service officers hoped to control the blaze sometime today.

ANOTHER ACTIVE fire burned at Lake Wohlford in San Diego county. The blaze started Tuesday and flashed over 1,200 acres of tinder-dry brush northeast of Escondido.

Elsewhere, firefighters were standing guard over fire trails which ringed blackened areas near Lake Elsinore in Riverside county, near Lake Henshaw in San Diego county and on the Camp Pendleton Marine Reservation.

The Lake Elsinore fire was controlled Wednesday after blackening 2,500 acres in two days. Skeleton crews began mop up operation after most of the fighting force was moved on to active fire areas.

FIREFIGHTERS MOPPED up the Lake Henshaw fire after bringing it under control Wednesday. It had blackened 9,250 acres in five days, 6,000 of which were in the Cleveland National Forest.

Ike Relaxes After GOP Pep Rally At Gettysburg

GETTYSBURG, Pa., (AP)—President Eisenhower relaxed at his farm today after opening his reelection campaign with a political pep rally in his front yard.

He planned to remain at least through today possibly playing golf in the late morning at the Gettysburg Country Club.

The President probably will return to the White House Friday to confer with Australian Foreign Minister Robert Menzies about the Suez crisis. Menzies headed the Western-backed delegation at the now collapsed Cairo talks.

All that remained of the big carnival-like picnic were scattered papers in the President's peaceful meadow near his farmhouse. Workmen began rapidly raking up.

More than 700 GOP leaders from throughout the nation crowded the three sign-plastered tents pitched on the farm Wednesday afternoon. Some signs said "If he's not registered, he ain't got equal rights" and "Register and give Ike a GOP Congress."

White Students Boycott Clay School Today

By UNITED PRESS

Two Negro children attended an almost empty school today in Clay, Ky., where white pupils responded to integration with a wholesale boycott.

Mayor Herman Z. Clark of Clay said the school would return to a segregated status as soon as National Guard troops leave town.

Only the principal and six teachers of a normal staff of 13 showed up at the school this morning. White parents had asked teachers as well as pupils to stay away until the guardsmen, bivouaced on the school grounds, leave.

A CROWD BEGAN forming this morning but found "schoolhouse hill" blocked by 500 National Guard troops. Until National Guardsmen arrived, the crowds had kept the Negro children from reaching the school.

Fewer than 10 white pupils came to school this morning. Only two white pupils arrived Wednesday after the Negroes were admitted and they left.

AT STURGIS, a former scene of racial riots 11 miles away, things returned to normal.

Eight Negroes attended classes at the newly integrated high school without incident Wednesday after the soldiers had pulled out. This was their first day without bayonet armed escorts.

'No Punishment' For 3 Brothers Who Killed Dad

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Three young brothers who conspired in the shooting of their father and planned to ambush their mother so they "could run the house the way we wanted" are beyond the reach of the law, juvenile officers said today.

Tommy Parker, 10, and his brothers, Robert, 9, and Richard, 7, Norwalk, because of their age, probably will be made wards of Juvenile Court and placed in foster homes, the officers said.

The youngsters admitted to sheriff's deputies they had plotted the death of their father, Thomas, 31, while confined to their room for a week as a disciplinary measure.

Richard said he was the trigger man who tipped into his father's room and sent a .22-caliber bullet crashing into his brain as he slept. He told officers Tommy had told him to do the shooting.

Father, Mother Separated, Face Grave Decision

ATLANTA, Ga., (AP)—A mother and a father, split over domestic problems, were drawn together today to ponder a dreadful decision, whether to order the removal of their child's only eye.

Johnny Pair, 5, had one if his eyes removed two years ago when doctors told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Pair, that it was cancerous. A post operative laboratory test confirmed the malignancy.

Now the doctors at Atlanta's Grady Hospital have told the parents the cancer is spreading and that little Johnny cannot live without the removal of the other eye.

Mr. and Mrs. Pair, separated for the past three years, met with their minister and with doctors Wednesday in an effort to reach a decision.

County Receives 3 More Letters On Idyllwild Zone

Three different points of view were expressed in three letters received by the board of supervisors this week in regard to a proposed zoning plan for the Idyllwild resort area in the San Jacinto mountains.

Leonard J. Wittersheim said he favors zoning but deprecates the proposed spot zoning as being much too lenient. "Zoning is for all the property owners and not just a few," said Wittersheim. "If I'm not mistaken these spot zones are to be granted through the entire area without reservation as long as the business is continued without interruptions of more than a short period. This includes sale of business etcetera." He said that at least the spot zoning should be limited to some definite length of time.

Maude and Thomas Milburn told the supervisors they favor the zoning plan. A number of letters favoring the plan have been received by the board to date. In general they appear to accept it as a compromise, in order to get some sort of zoning of the area in operation.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Neal were in opposition to any form of zoning. They called it "dictatorship" and "Iron Curtain tactics."

All three letters were added to the county planning commission's file on the proposed Idyllwild zoning.

County Camping Fees Proposed For Idyllwild Area

A Riverside dentist, Michael P. Warnken, D.D.S., suggested to the board of supervisors Tuesday that free over-night use of the county campground at Idyllwild be limited to county residents, that out-of-county over-nighters be charged a small fee of 50 cents to a dollar per night, and that a small fee be charged to anyone using the park for daytime only, whether they be countyites or non-countyites.

Dr. Warnken said that on a recent Sunday he checked the register book at the campground and noted that 40 of the last 56 names registered were people from outside the county. "They are the ones that cause overcrowding," he charged. "Perhaps before you limit the time of stay or change any of the rules that might affect Riverside county residents, you might consider my suggestions."

The supervisors have been considering limiting the length of stay of campers.

Dr. Warnken's suggestions were referred to the county planning commission.

Bixel to Attend Convention Here

Two county officials were authorized by the board of supervisors Tuesday to attend conventions.

C. G. Bixel, chief building inspector, will attend the International Conference of Building Officials to be held in Palm Springs Oct. 29 through Nov. 2.

Clay Begole, county administrative officer, will attend the conference of the County Supervisors Association of California which opens in San Diego on Sept. 26.

Science Uses 'Operation Tadpole' In Gall Bladders, Liver Experiment

By ALFRED LEECH
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO (AP)—"Scalpel," called Dr. John Chiakulis. And with that he proceeded to remove the gall bladder from a sleeping tadpole.

Some time later the tadpole came out from under the anesthetic. Dunked in a bowl of water, the little critter swam around in blissful ignorance of the fact it was making a contribution to medical science.

Chiakulis, an anatomy instructor at Chicago Medical School, is trying to learn whether the gall bladder can make itself whole again if part of it is removed.

The question has remained unanswered because when a surgeon removes a human gall bladder he takes it all. So Chiakulis takes a portion of gall bladder from one tadpole and transplants it in the tail fins of another, where he can watch its development.

Chiakulis, a tall, thin, experimental embryologist with dark-rimmed glasses and a scientific sense of humor, is up to his ears in tadpoles. He's also conducting research on tadpole livers and "guts," as he puts it.

"Gut is a good, scientific term," he said. "It means any part of the digestive tract."

Chiakulis said it's common knowledge that the liver has powers of regeneration, but he wants to know whether it has some way of controlling its own restoration and repair.

Removing a tadpole's gall bladder is a nice feat of micro-surgery, performed under a microscope that magnifies nine times.

CHIAKULIS PUTS HIS patients to sleep by letting them swim in a bowl of trichloroethane, a mouthful even for a cannibalistic tadpole.

He then puts the tad flat on its back on a miniature operating table, strapping it down with strips of organza gauze. With a tiny instrument he makes the incision, and with a jeweler's forceps he removes the gall bladder, pinhead size.

Technically, the operation is called a "cholecystostomy."

"The tadpoles don't mind it," Chiakulis said. "They heal fast."

Board Deadlocks On Request of Supt. Johnson

Refused permission by the board of supervisors recently on his request to attend the National Convention of County Rural Area Superintendents at Atlanta, Georgia, Oct. 14 through 17, Ray W. Johnson, county superintendent of schools, asked the board Tuesday for reconsideration of his request.

"It is the first time I have ever had such a request turned down," said Johnson. He explained that the trip is paid for from state funds. He said there are two conventions each year and that he has never considered going to but one of them. He goes to the national convention one year and to the American Association of School Administrators the next.

"I THOUGHT PERHAPS there was something about my request you didn't understand," he said, "so I'm here to answer any questions you may have."

The vote on Johnson's original request was three ayes and two nays. Supervisor Roman Warren's motion to deny the request was supported by Supervisor William Jones, and Supervisor Fred McCall. Supervisor Paul Anderson and Supervisor George Berkey passed their opportunity to vote.

FOLLOWING TUESDAY'S discussion, Supervisor Berkey made motion to grant Johnson permission to attend the convention, and it was seconded by Supervisor Anderson. Supervisor McCall was absent. Jones and Warren voted against the motion. The result was a two to two tie, and the motion was lost.

"There's nothing personal in my attitude," said Supervisor Jones. "I'm opposed to attendance by employees of this county at national conventions."

Farm Bureau Urges Sales Tax Discussion Meet

The Riverside County Farm Bureau took the initiative Tuesday and asked the board of supervisors to meet with people from the unincorporated areas of the county to discuss the proposed county sales tax.

"What kind of a meeting?" Supervisor William Jones, board chairman, asked Bryant Chandler, executive secretary of the Bureau.

"We want to obtain a comprehensive picture of the feeling of people throughout the county in regard to a sales tax," replied Chandler. He stressed the fact that although the Farm Bureau is promoting the meeting, it urges all groups and organizations of all kinds to have representatives at the meeting to participate in the discussion.

Chandler suggested Oct. 11 as a date for the session, but when it appeared to be an inconvenient time for the supervisors it was decided to leave it open, with Chandler to work with County Administrative Officer Clay Begole in determining a date to be announced later. The supervisorial chambers in the court house at Riverside was chosen as the best place to hold the meeting.

MENTAL ILLNESS REPORT (Hemet News)

The treatment of mental illness in the past few years has received a great deal of publicity, and probably will receive much more in the years to come. The subject has been under investigation by the senate interim committee on the treatment of mental illness, headed by Senator Alan Short of Stockton, for the past several months, and a partial report has been issued.

In California the primary developments in mental illness work are accomplished in the state mental hospitals, due to the fact that the state handles more patients of this type than any private hospital could hope to treat.

As a result of this situation, the charge for mental illness is high, amounting to approximately $80,000,000 for the current fiscal year. And as well, the per capita costs of treating mental patients are high, running from $1300 to $1800 in the various institutions maintained by the state.

However, the monies expended on mental illness treatment generally are not begrudged, for the simple reason that such treatment and care is a public necessity, a humanitarian endeavor and eventually an economic gain to the state.

The committee investigation deals primarily with the use in the state's mental hospitals of various new drugs which have been developed and discovered during the past few years for the treatment of mental illness. It finds that none of the drugs so far have been established as a complete cure, but finds further that in their use the improvement in patients has been definitely progressive.

TOO MUCH MONEY (Christian Science Monitor)

The embarrassment of too much money has never won much pity for its victim. But that it can be a real embarrassment the Canadian government finds as it debates what to do with a prospective budget surplus of $300,000,000.

The government is thinking of general elections which may come within the next year or eighteen months. It is thinking of votes it may lose if it does not satisfy voters to whom inflation is something that the experts say is bad but which feels good in a pay packet—even if the packet buys less than it used to.

Here are some of the things that some Canadian voters would say the government might do with its surplus: Raise old-age pensions, because pensions and other fixed incomes barely keep up with price rises; cut income taxes because a surplus indicates they are higher than need be; raise family allowances be-

The committee indicated the department of mental hygiene has been somewhat slow in establishing clinical uses of the drugs in its hospitals, and recommends, which is unusual for a legislative committee, that the department ask the department of finance for an immediate transfer of $250,000 from the operating expenses account of the various hospitals, for implementation of use of the new drugs. Failing to obtain the same, the request is important enough, the committee thinks, for the department to ask for emergency funds to increase the supply and use of the drugs in treatment of the mentally ill.

More emphasis on a continuing and intensive analysis of present treatment programs, and establishment of a systematic method of investigating and evaluating new types of treatment, were also recommended as a result of the study.

In a department charged with the responsibility of caring for more than 80,000 patients, it is difficult to introduce new methods in a hurry. The committee, therefore, does not believe there will be any immediate monetary savings in operation of the state hospitals through use of the drugs, but on the contrary, it feels that more personnel will be necessary to make effective use of the treatment.

This, of course, will bring budget problems to the forthcoming session of the state legislature, but it is generally believed that if the department of mental hygiene can show how use of the new drugs is effective, the legislature will not be niggardly.

CHANGE IN PATTERN (Boone, Iowa, News-Republican)

More and more of America's cooking is being done, not in the family kitchen, but by food processors. Even on the farm, where good home cooking is traditional, easy-to-prepare foods from the supermarkets and grocery stores are making substantial inroads. . . . Much has been made of the do-it-yourself rage in this country. But the trend in the nation's kitchens is exactly the opposite.

LINCOLN'S ADVICE (Manistique, Mich., Pioneer-Tribune)

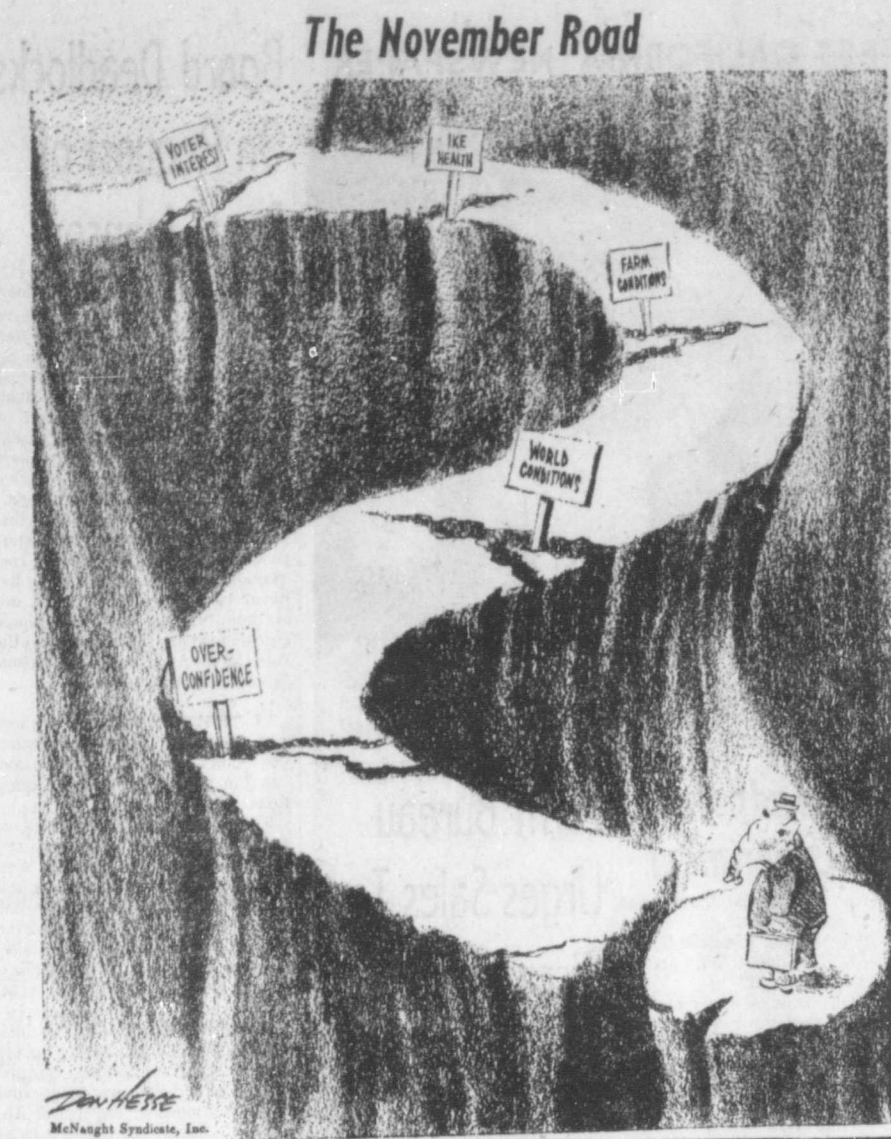

Many years ago Abraham Lincoln made the sage observation that government should keep out of those activities where private initiative and effort can do a better job. Of late years there has been an increasingly loud cry for the government to do it.

HOT DOG! (Greensboro, N.C., Democrat)

. . . The hot dog is simple and down-to-earth and economical. It's within the reach and pocketbook of everybody, and it has a taste of America. Let's toast the American Way, the hot dog way. It's a national tradition to be proud of. So pass the mustard. Hot dog!

THIS SIDE of The Sun By Phat

It is with much contrition
I admit I missed Admission
From my list of triple days.
IT came upon last Sunday
So they marked it on a Monday
But it didn't miss the highways.

It's gratifying to get calls and cards on what appears here. It's nice when the comments are nice. But I don't mind the other kind. Away back, when whamming a typewriter was a serious and dedicated business, I dreaded critical comments.

But my first boss soon set me right. He was a man of few words. Few, that is, permissible here.

With appropriate, but herein deleted adjectives, he said: "Look — you, if nobody blasted you once in a while, how in — would you know how — you are doing, —"

THE ABOVE is based on a carping critic's note attacking my listing of three-day holidays.

"How about last weekend?" was the query. "Aren't you a patriotic Californian? Don't you know that 106 years ago Sunday, California became a member of the great and glorious Union? Since it fell on Sunday, that's a triple-holiday you missed."

The writer is evidently an NSGW.

I was merely writing about the effect of three-day holidays on the traffic toll. The people who observed Admission Day, didn't take to the highways over the weekend in droves.

PLENTY OF TALK about trucks these days. We need 'em but not that big. If they are going to build them as big as box cars, why not run on their own roads, like box cars?

Many Villagers probably have experienced the sensation of Highway behemoths breathing down the backs of their necks on the stretch between Banning and Palm Springs Junction. Many of them have had to go far beyond the limit highway patrolmen like, to keep out of the way.

The frustrating part of it, you have to go like crazy to keep out of their way downhill—and make like a snail-behind them uphill.

RAILROADS, even though they build their own highways, insist all crews check to see that brakes are in working order at the top of every grade. Retarders go down and the time schedule downhill is slower than for uphill.

Even after that, if something still goes wrong, the heavy trains do not run away. There is more than one way to stop them. They don't need escape ramps.

We need the trucks. We'd be in bad shape in Palm Springs without 'em with the nearest rail line eight miles away. But they could go a little slower, cut themselves down to size, observe those "Down-grade a-board, use low gears" signs and adopt some of the railroad's safety rules.

Sure, I'm a lifetime railroad fan but don't waste postage to tell me I'm angling for a free trip. The last free ride I had was when a small boy. While investigating the interior of a box car, the train took off.

Did you register?

EARL WILSON: Miss Taylor Can't Spell

NEW YORK—We were feeling very brave. So we asked Elizabeth Taylor if she's really "passionately in love" with Producer Mike Todd—with Mike standing right there.

"That's a lot of nonsense" Liz replied.

"What did you say?" demanded Mike . . . glaring . . . but good-humoredly. "I said, 'That's a lot of nonsense!'" Liz repeated.

"Lissen" Mike bit off the tip of a cigar. He fixed her with his eye. "I'm not no Svengali or nuthin' BUT WHAT DID YOU SAY?"

"I said, 'That's a lot of nonsense!'" . . . and for emphasis she began spelling it out. "No-n-s-e-n-c-e," she said without even pausing to think about it. The word didn't bother her a bit.

Oh well, does a beautiful girl have to spell, too? This was at a party rivaling any of Hollywood's, given by the Harry Goulds at Cherry Hill Farm, Greenwich, Conn., for the 39th anniversary of RCA President Frank Folsom and Mrs. Folsom.

GENE TUNNEY—who was at our table—directed a comment at Mike about his age (he's about 48), with Liz standing by.

"I see you use the same hair oil I do," said Tunney. (Todd's hair is coal black.)

"I use shoe polish and dye mine," flipped Todd. "And don't bother telling her I wear a toupee because she's seen it. Furthermore, she's gonna meet my grandchild. I got to get my son and daughter-in-law's approval of her before I can date her any more."

For all the kidding, Liz appears smitten and smoochy over the dashing globe-trotting producer who actually did take her to see his grandchild.

They might even get married sometime (to each other, we mean).

George Jessel flew in from Hollywood to m.c. the Goulds' party at which Sophie Tucker and Robert Merrill both sang and Ted Lewis tooted the clarinet. Introducing Folsom, Jessel said, "He is President of RCA"—he glanced at his watch—"as of 10:25 Eastern Standard Time."

The Desert Sun's six or seven year proposal that a retirement plan be put into effect for city employees gained the unofficial approval of six councilmen in informal session.

The Desert Sun's long campaign to equalize the difference in pay between civil employees and those employed in similar jobs in private business, may, it is stated, bear fruit by the time January 1 rolls around. Some sort of a retirement plan was first broached during the regime of William Alworth as city manager; it met with luke warm treatment when Russell Rink was city manager, and now for the first time Pete Peterson comes up with the state retirement plan, and, I am informed, urged city council to adopt the measure.

One glaring revelation made in Peterson's report was that the state's survey of job classification indicated that salaries paid here were below the standards paid employees in other cities in California and that this defect would have to be brought up to par before the pension plan could be put into effect.

FRANKLY, YOURS TRULY has been contending that for so long a period of time I can almost recite word for word conversations I've had with councilmen over the years regarding a retirement plan. Truthfully, I was spurred on by the ever changing picture of personnel on the rolls of our police and fire departments.

During the past four years there has been a turn-over of more than 5 per cent in police personnel. The percentage is even greater among firemen. Most of those who have gone on to more lucrative fields of economic existence cost the city thousands of dollars in training. A fireman or a policeman cannot be trained overnight. And furthermore, it takes a certain personality make-up for a police officer to be a success in this resort city of ours. He is not only charged with the enforcement of the law but has to be an ambassador of good will, a public relations expert in meeting the thousands that come to live in our midst every Winter season.

HOWEVER, DESPITE the glamour of being a fireman or a policeman there comes a time when living in Palm Springs becomes a match beyond which the dollars a cop or fire eater receives are so insufficient the battle for economic existence colors the glamour to a point of drabness, disappointment, and an urge to seek employment elsewhere.

The other day it was announced that 30 applicants had filed for positions as policemen. When the day of examination rolled around only 10 men showed up; of these, three applicants passed the written test.

This indicates only one thing, that there isn't sufficient take-home pay for a man, especially with a family, to subsist upon. And, in addition, with only three of 10 men passing the examination the lure of being a policeman does not bring men of intelligence to a point where they are even interested.

Yesterday I spoke to Shelby Langford, our director of city finances, asking that he show me why it would cost the city taxpayers 10 cents per $100 in assessed valuation to put into effect the California State Pension fund. Unfortunately for me, I had to go with this column before my interview with him. But we will write his side of the story and even if it is 10 cents per $100 I know that most of us will go along with that cost.

PETERSON'S REPORT indicates that it will cost the City of Palm Springs $60,000 to put the pension or retirement plan into effect. I also remember when it was estimated by Rink, with some horror mirrored on the face of city councilmen, that a pension plan would cost only $40,000. The use tax voted by our city fathers should amply take care of the initial cost and the continuation of the retirement fund, but of course I'll wait until Shelby Langford tells me why it will cost 10 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

Ida Keeney in with a sorrowful note about the possible passing of Western Week from the local scene. "Guess I've never really grown up because I still love parades. With the passing of Barnum and Bailey's Circus, what are the kids going to have to look forward to — just hot-rod races? I'm for keeping the cowboy and Indian spirit alive. I'm willing to help keep Western Week alive with the use of my 10 fingers, my typewriter and mimeograph machine. Please have those who plan to do something about Western Week call on me for help."

ED BACON WRITES from way up North anent my column on our littered Highway 111. He suggests as I did that the same be done as exists now in Oregon and Washington: a litter can every quarter of a mile.

By the way, Joe Pine is the top majordomo at the Ranch Club now and Ruby of the Dunes is one of those Sidewalk Superintendents watching the new addition which is being added to his night club. And Jack Carson in company with Jeff Chandler are naturally kind to publicity people, but the one they ran into the other night at one of our hotels, they both declared, "this one actually ruffled our feathers." Then they came back with "but it was all right."

And Charley Farrell told me that many celebrities act annoyed when photographers pester them: "But boy, the moment these autograph hounds stop the actor or actress may take that exit cue."

By RON BURTON

United Press Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD — Louis Hayward approves of having beef-steak or makeup put on an injured eye or a little water on a dirty face—but he wants his age 40 wrinkles left there.

This means a problem for Paramount makeup man Carl Silvera, an artist in his own right who has his own ideas about what should go where and how. It also means problems for photographers because Hayward feels the same way about having his pictures retouched.

"Carl, don't make me look like a schoolboy," Hayward tells Silvera every morning as he comes to work for the "The Search for Bridey Murphy." Hayward thinks he should look his age.

"PASSING ME OFF as a 25-year-old is something Paramount would never try to do, yet the makeup man attacks wrinkles with a vengeance," he said. "The lines in my face are age 40 lines. There's nothing wrong with them—not if you're 40, anyhow."

Hayward thinks that he is reasonable about some corrective facial actions, but he spells them out.

"Let the wrinkles stay in," he said. "If there's dirt on my nose, or one eye is closed, then it can be doctored. Otherwise, I want to be left as I am."

"LINES CAN MAKE a face more interesting, I think, and indicate character. Look at Spencer Tracy. Now he has a much more interesting face right this minute than he had 20 years ago, and he has lines, and you see them."

Silvera likes Hayward. Hayward likes Silvera. And still it's the same line about lines every day after they swap good mornings.

"Now Carl—no schoolboy face today," the actor will say. "I'm 40."

It's probably lucky that Hayward's type is small in numbers here. Otherwise a lot of makeup men and retouchers might be out of work.

Doodles

By ROGER PRICE

"HORNET SCARING TWO GIRLS"

I first drew this Doodle several weeks ago when I appeared as guest panelist on that popular TV show "What's My Line?" and I wasn't sure what to call it at first. Dorothy Kilgallen thought it should be called "A Reckless Meatball Diving Between Two Forks" while Arlene Francis thought it looked more like "An Atom Hiding from an Atom Smasher between two Stacks of Hotcakes." On the other hand, Bennett Cerf said that if it had to be called anything it should be titled "Two Sheep Dogs leaving a Flea Homeless." Moderator John Daly refused to give it a title. However, he had a comment to make. He said, "Don't show it on the air." So I didn't.

Add Cornmeal

Next time meat loaf is on the menu, try this variation. After the loaf has been shaped for the pan, roll it in 1/4 cup of enriched corn meal. You'll find this gives the loaf a new flavor and a crunchy surface.

Casserole Crunch

Try leftover cornbread as a topping for main dish casseroles. Just crumble the bread on top of the casserole, dot with butter and bake.

Hint for the travel set: If your wardrobe includes several wash-and-drip-dry clothes, pack several collapsible plastic hangers. Hanging the garments on a wire hanger may cause rust stains.

Use Grill for Hot Sandwiches

While steak and hamburgers continue big favorites, there are almost as many ideas for outdoor cooking as there are persons to man the grills.

One certain hit is the hot sandwich, a variation of the "hero" or "poor boy."

Wait until the fire burns down to the coals. Then have ready a foil-wrapped loaf or rye or french bread complete with filling, for that whole meal between slices. Slice the loaf in wider-than-usual slices, cutting slightly on the diagonal and not quite through the bottom crust.

Between slices, tuck in triangles of process cheese, slices of fresh tomato and your choice of cold cuts of meat. Wrap the whole loaf loosely in freezer-foil and warm on the grill to the side of the coals until the cheese is melting. To serve, cut each bread section midway between the filling. Any number of "stuffs" such as meat or poultry salads can be used for the french or rye loaf.

Hot Mocha

Hot mocha is a delicious beverage to serve on cool desert nights. Combine 2 tablespoons cocoa, 2 tablespoons sugar, a dash of salt and 1/4 cup water. Boil 1 minute. Stir in 2 cups milk and 2 cups coffee. Heat and add 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract.

City Signs Pacts With Planners, Local Chamber

Two agreements were passed by the city council at its meeting Tuesday afternoon, at which time they hired Simon Eisner as a planning consultant and approved the expenditure of $50,000 by the Chamber of Commerce to launch its 1956-57 advertising and publicity campaign.

The 11-page agreement with Eisner, written for a maximum fee of $6,000, directs the planning consultant to do a complete research within the City of Palm Springs on land use, traffic and transportation, parking, parks and recreation, schools, population analysis, local economy, and public buildings. He will prepare a master plan of the city's future growth and development.

Eisner's contract with the city will run until June 30, 1957, and at that time can be renewed.

The city's agreement with the Chamber of Commerce, sets the chamber up as an advertising and promotion bureau of the city and gives them the power to expend funds to promote, advertise and publicize the advantages and attractions of Palm Springs, as a high class winter resort.

The city budgets $50,000 toward the fund, and this year the council is contemplating increasing the fund by $10,000. The proposed increase is due before the city council around January.

Food Successful As Honesty Bait

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—B. B. Crump has found honest men by the thousands and didn't go out with a lantern as Diogenes did.

Crump uses coffee, coffee cake, blueberry muffins, doughnuts, and rolls to prove his point.

Crump operates a cafeteria that serves 300 to 400 persons every morning. There's no cashier. The customers deposit their own money and fish out their own change.

Crump said he has found in two and one-half years of operation that the few cases of his being short-changed that turn up are mistakes.

Los Angeles County Fair Set to Open Under Banner, 'Pageant of Progress'

POMONA — Under the banner, "A Pageant of Progress," the 29th annual Los Angeles County Fair will open tomorrow morning. Culminating a year of intensive planning and preparation, the multi-million dollar exposition is geared to greet well over a million visitors before it closes at midnight, Sept. 30.

Likened to a mighty show-window, the 450-acre park with its 200 permanent buildings, dramatizes agricultural, industrial and cultural achievement in literally miles of exhibits and displays of infinite variety and appeal. From Siskiyou on the north to San Diego in the south, more than a hundred counties and communities vie with one another in combining artistry, with utility, in magnificent creations to set forth their county.

BECAUSE OF ITS magnitude and ramifications, the fair is divided into 20 major divisions, each a creditable show in itself. One can gain an idea of its diversity from a quick glance at the major classifications. Agriculture and horticulture presents man's mastery over nature in prize products of orchard, field and garden. A glorious symphony of color greets the eye in the magnificent floral building. The cream of the flocks and herds are in the livestock show.

The Domestic Arts building is filled to overflowing with women's handicraft. Two thousand chickens, rabbits and pigeons form the largest small stock show in the country. The senior fair is paralleled by a junior fair glorifying the accomplishments of youth. The nation's foremost painters and sculptors are represented in a notable fine arts show.

Outdoor living and outdoor recreation are stressed in the colorful sports plaza. There is a notable public school exhibit. Dairy products have their place with a tempting array. There are home shows, new building products, model homes, farm and garden machinery, automotive show, trailer village, Mexican village, western village, science and invention and others almost too numerous to mention.

THE FROSTING ON the cake is provided by an exciting and glamorous entertainment fare morning, noon and night. Every afternoon there is the popular combination of harness, running and quarter horse racing. Each evening spectacular grandstand attractions include "Jazz at the Fair" with Louis Armstrong the first two nights. This is followed by a "Horse Cavalcade" and "The Stampede."

A million dollar midway of world's fair proportion offers a constant succession of parades, fiestas and reunions. And with all its magnitude it retains all the atmosphere and charm of the time-honored county fair.

County Finds Bed Price Up

An additional $321 for the purchase of 63 beds and mattresses for Twin Pines, county juvenile camp in the San Jacinto mountains, was requested by Probation Officer Bert R. Van Horn, and granted by the board of supervisors Tuesday.

The price of the beds and mattresses has risen approximately $3 per unit, to $27.50, since a quotation was given last April by the Correctional Industries, according to Van Horn.

Given More Time

Gene F. Boudon, Paris, France, being held locally on charges of passing bad checks, was given additional time Tuesday to enter a plea. He will appear before Judge Eugene Theriault for sentencing on Tuesday, and is being held on $500 bail.

Morey Named Head of DHS Toastmasters

Jack Morey was elected president of the Toastmasters Club for a six months' term when the club met this week at Yola's Restaurant.

Other new officers of the club are T. N. Ford, first vice president; Gilbert Holloway, second vice president; Richard L. Roderick, secretary treasurer; Bob Stafford, sergeant-at-arms.

Installation dinner will be Oct. 8 at Addington's Steak House. Members' wives will be the guests of the club.

At Monday's meeting, presided over by President Skip Wright, speakers of the evening were Gilbert Holloway, discussing "Psychosomatic Medicine," John Addington, whose topic was "Spices," and Morey, whose topic was "Conservation." Holloway was the cup winner.

Sam Benton was Toastmaster of the evening, and Ford was table topics chairman. President Wright was chief evaluator, assisted by William Harvey, Bruce Crawford and Ford. Les Morgan was table topics evaluator. Roderick was timer, Garnet Taylor was grammarian, Harvey was "ah-man" counter and Holloway was "ah-man" winner.

Road Extension Asked of County

Heavy snows kept one family from leaving their home in the Anza area south of the Cahulla Indian Reservation for several weeks last winter, the board of supervisors was told Tuesday by petitioners for a southerly extension of Chapman Road as a county road.

County Road Commissioner A. C. Keith said he is not "totally familiar" with the road in question but doubts that it would get sufficient public use to justify adding it to the county road system.

The request was referred to Keith and to the county planning commission for investigation and report.

Abortions Equal Births in Japan

French Renault Offered in Thrifty Drug's 'Accent on Beauty' Contest

A French Renault, one of the world's most popular family sports cars, is being offered as Grand Prize in the "Accent on Beauty" contest now under way in local Thrifty Drug Stores.

To qualify for the four-door Renault sedan, local residents merely visit the Palm Springs Thrifty Store and ask for a free entry blank. A name and address, plus a generous share of luck, is all that is needed to win the 50-mile per gallon family car.

HONORED WITH MANY awards, the Renault most recently set the transcontinental speed record from New York to Los Angeles and return in 124 hours and three minutes, beating the former record by 39 minutes. On its record run, Renault averaged 47 miles per hour with a gas consumption of 50 miles per gallon. A gas turbine Renault holds the world's speed record of 191 m.p.h.

This outstanding economy is unexpected in a car that finishes ahead of dozens of larger cars in California road races. The strictly European handling characteristics are made possible by torsion-type springing of all wheels and an extremely low steering ratio that gives immediate response.

AS AN ADDED BONUS, Thrifty's Renault winner can also receive a one year's supply of Golden Eagle gasoline. To qualify for this additional prize, the winning entry blank must be accompanied by a sales slip from any Revlon cosmetic product.

Local residents are urged to enter the free "Accent on Beauty" contest every time they visit the Village Thrifty Drug Store.

County Ordinance to Keep Patients At General Hospital From Imbibing

An ordinance regulating the use of alcoholic beverages at the county's General Hospital at Arlington was adopted by the board of supervisors Tuesday. The new law will become effective Oct. 11. It makes it unlawful for any person to take alcoholic beverages upon the premises of the hospital for any hospital patient, or for any patient to consume any such beverage at the hospital.

Violation of the ordinance is a misdemeanor subject to punishment by a fine not exceeding $500 or six months imprisonment or both.

County Counsel Ray T. Sullivan, Jr., told the supervisors that he believes the ordinance will control the situation in the unincorporated portion of the hospital grounds, particularly the area occupied by the tuberculosis ward, but isn't sure about the portion of the grounds lying within the city limits of Riverside. He said he has asked the city to adopt a similar ordinance and believes they will do so.

Three Directors Named to Valley Sanitary Board

The three directors of the Coachella Sanitary District whose terms are expiring neglected to file nomination papers because of "a mistake as to the last day for filing," Wallace Rouse, Indio attorney, advised the board of supervisors Tuesday.

The supervisors granted a request by Rouse that a resolution be adopted appointing the three men for terms of four years each. The attorney said all three are extremely well qualified for the office, experienced in the work of the district and diligent in attending meetings.

The other two directors of the district, Carl C. Preston and Ralph H. Hunter, concurred with Rouse in his request.

The three appointees are Virgil Lopes, Edwin M. Atwater and Marvin L. Cox.

Since there were no other nominees, the Sept. 17 election would in all probability have been called off and appointments made by the board of supervisors in accordance with usual procedure.

No Help Given Garnet Highway Group by County

Received and filed by the county board of supervisors Tuesday was a recommendation by Road Commissioner A. C. Keitt that they take no action in regard to a petition asking for a hearing on an asserted change in plan being made in construction of the new freeway where the old state highway contacts it at points just west and just east of Garnet. The petition was referred to Keith for study and recommendation July 23.

"Agreements with the property owners regarding access rights were handled entirely by the Division of Highways in San Bernardino," said Keith, "and if there is any question regarding these agreements the property owners would probably be better served by consulting directly with the San Bernardino office."

TODAY'S SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves glowered around the batting cage, glooming at their own batting practice pitcher as if he were a Brooklyn uniform.

There was no levity and, actually, little conversation, as each batter stepped in and took his cuts. They just watched impassively, like a flock of underfed hawks.

"You Cassius hath a lean and hungry look," asserted one observer, stealing a line from a baseball writer named William Shakespeare.

Eddie Matthews, the muscles bulging in his arms, walloped a pitch against the right field scoreboard and Johnny Dittmer, following its flight, grunted woodenly.

"We could have used that one last night."

SEVERAL OF THEM nodded grimly and it was obvious that, in their minds, they still were playing the night game in which Brooklyn had tied them for the National League lead.

Now, coming up to the season's final game with Brooklyn and the league lead at stake, they were wound so tight you expected to hear the mainspring snap while the Dodgers, during their turn in the cage were relaxed and full of gags.

Don Elston, pitching batting practice, was throwing a low, fast sinkerball. Carl Furillo jumped back from an inside pitch and protested in a squeaky falsetto:

"Who's pitching next?"

"Bob Aspromonte, the kid," said Billy Herman.

"Sounds good," Furillo chuckled. "I'll pass on this guy."

PEE WEE REESE stepped in, pulled his sore right hand back from another inside pitch, and asked:

"What's this guy's record?" "He was 20 and 1 at St. Paul," kidded Dixie Howell, "and the one game he lost they threw away on errors."

"Well," said Reese, "I pass. Why should I let him hit me on the hand. Lew Burdette will do enough of that."

Aspromonte went to the mound to pitch the remainder of the Brooklyn batting practice and Reese grinningly elbowed in ahead of Junior Gilliam.

"Hey, what's the idea," Junior jawed. "You took your turn."

REESE TURNED HIS back, reached up an arm and pointed at the number one on the back of his uniform.

"See that, son?" the little captain demanded joshingly. "Well, that means I ask the questions around here."

The Dodger veterans were loose and laughing. Which made the contrast all the greater as the Braves took their turn in the cage.

But when it was over, several hours later, and the Braves had gamely fought back to an 8-7 victory, the laugh was on the other cheek. It's an axiom in sports that a winner has to be "hungry." He may be a bit tight in the face of the unaccustomed pressure, but "yon Cassius" from Milwaukee certainly is that.

Braves Find No Rest, Jinx Team is Next

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer

There's no rest today for the Milwaukee Braves who find their season-long "jinx team" the next obstacle in the rocky road to the National League flag.

Relieved, but hardly fresh, after Wednesday's pressure-filled, 8-7 triumph over the Brooklyn Dodgers, the Braves have another "toughie" in a two-night double-header with the Philadelphia Phillies. The fifth-place Phillies have a 10-8 edge over the Braves and are the only team in the circuit with a chance to beat them in their season series.

A sweep would boost the Braves' lead to two games, a split would leave them six percentage points in front and a double loss would enable the idle Brooklyn Dodgers to take over the top rung undisputedly for the first time since April 28.

WARREN SPAHN is slated to try for the 200th victory of his career in one game with rookie Bob Trowbridge 3-1 going in the other for the Braves. For the Phillies, Robin Roberts and Jack Meyer are slated to hurl with Roberts gunning for his 18th win.

Bill Bruton, Bob Buhl and Joe Adcock shared the hero laurels when the Braves successfully met their biggest test of the season Wednesday. Bruton, who hit a triple in the first inning, knocked in the decisive run with a single in the eighth inning after an error by Danny O'Connell helped the Dodgers score three runs and produced a 7-7 tie.

BUHL, BEATEN by the Dodgers Tuesday night, received credit for his eighth victory of the season over them while Adcock whacked a two-run homer in the sixth that put Milwaukee ahead, 6-4. It was Adcock's 13th of the season against Brooklyn—equalling the major league season mark.

The third-place Cincinnati Redlegs fell three games off the pace with only 15 to play when Johnny Antonelli hurled a three-hitter to give the New York Giants an 8-0 triumph. Homers by Jackie Brandt and Daryl Spencer helped Antonelli score his 16th win and hand Joe Nuxhall his 10th defeat.

Sam Jones struck out five and hurled a four-hitter as the Chicago Cubs defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-0, in the other NL game.

IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE, the Kansas City Athletics defeated the New York Yankees, 7-4, and cut their lead to 10 games when the Cleveland Indians shaded the Baltimore Orioles, 2-1.

Frank Sullivan pitched a five-hitter for his 13th win as the Boston Red Sox knocked the Chicago White Sox from third to fourth place with a 4-1 decision, and Billy Hoelt won his 18th game for the Detroit Tigers with a 3-2 victory over the Washington Senators.

Mantle May Lose All Honors

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Mickey Mantle, who started the month with a chance to break Babe Ruth's home run record, is in serious danger today of failing to win two other honors he seemed to have clinched. Once seemingly a cinch for the batting title, Mantle now leads Ted Williams by only three points—332 to 349—and he leads Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers in runs batted in by only two—118 to 116. Mantle, meanwhile, has yet to hit a homer this month and now needs 14 in 15 games to set a new mark.

Mauch Leaves In Blaze of Glory

Little second-sacker Gene Mauch, who many considered a more potent cog in Los Angeles' drive to the pennant than homer-happy Steve Biko, headed for Boston today to join the Red Sox after bowing out of the PCL with his bat blazing.

Mauch slugged out a triple and two singles in four trips Wednesday to help the Angels to an 11-7 win over the Hollywood Stars. Some 5,796 fans turned out at Wrigley Field for "Mauch Night" in honor of the 30-year-old holler guy and he didn't disappoint them.

It was a jam-packed schedule Wednesday night, with second-place Seattle dividing a pair with the Portland Beavers, winning the short first game 2-1, then losing in the ninth inning of the opener 5-4 when Luis Marquez walloped a three-run homer.

Sacramento kept in the three-cornered scramble for third place by thumping San Diego 16-9, nine of their runs coming in the first inning; and the San Francisco Seals swept a pair from the tail-end Vancouver Mounties 4-2 and 2-1.

Berg, Fecht Favored

WHITTIER (AP)—Defending co-champions Patty Berg and Gloria Fecht headed a list of 85 top women golfers teeing off today in a $5,000 PGA invitational tournament at Clock Country Club.

Basilio Takes Crown Back From Saxton

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Fiery Carmen Basilio, who recaptured the welterweight crown from Johnny Saxton Wednesday night and is casting covetous eyes on the middleweight title, credited "better condition and smart boxing—in tactics" today for his savage victory.

The 29-year-old Carmen gave Saxton a bloody beating and stopped him in the ninth round of their return fight before 8,546 in War Memorial Auditorium, but he must grant New Yorker Johnny a "rubber title match" before he goes after Sugar Ray Robinson's 160-pound crown.

For Carmen and his handlers, at least, the technical knockout triumph settled the six-months dispute over who should have won at Chicago last March, when Saxton took the title from basilio on a controversial decision.

"I FOUGHT A MUCH smarter fight last night," said the ex-onion farmer from nearby Chittenango, N.Y., who became the ninth man in welterweight history to win back the title after losing it.

"I used boxing-in-tactics," he continued, "and cut off his retreats when he tried to circle, instead of following him around the circle, like at Chicago."

SAXTON, WHO WILL be out of action for weeks because of the badly ripped left side of his mouth, likewise said:

"I won't fight again in Syracuse. Basilio got away with butting and other things last night, here in his own backyard."

Johnny said the ripped mouth, which required nine stitches, was caused by a butt, not by a punch.

Favor Furgol In Fort Wayne $15,000 Open

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Ed Furgol, currently the hot-shot on the professional golf swing, was the favorite today to give the seventh annual $15,000 Fort Wayne open a new champion for the seventh time.

Not since this show was inaugurated in 1950 has the winner repeated. At least two ex-champs, last year's winner Doug Finsterwald and 1954 titlist Doug Ford, were among the more than 100 players who teed off today in the 72-hole contest.

At the halfway mark, the field will be chopped to the low 60 pros and 10 ranking amateurs to go the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

Youth Headlines Amateur Play

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP)—The emphasis was on youth in the National Amateur golf tourney today with most of the name players on the sidelines and the kids holding the upper hand as 15 survivors headed into fifth and sixth round play.

Seven of the remaining field were 22 and under with one fourth round match still undecided.

San Diego Wins Navy Ball Title

HONOLULU (AP)—The San Diego Naval Training Center team won the Western All-Navy Baseball Championship Wednesday night by walloping the Yokosuka Japan base nine, 10-1.

Southpaw Will Calvin allowed only three hits and struck out 12 for the San Diego team, which is loaded with former professional and collegiate players. During the season the team won 87 games and lost 11.

Tigers, Indians Eye Tebbetts As '57 Manager

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Detroit and Cleveland are both eyeing Cincinnati's Birdie Tebbetts as manager for 1957, it was learned today by the United Press.

Neither the Tigers nor the Indians "have much of a chance to get Tebbetts, though," according to the source, because General Manager Gabe Paul of the Redlegs "works together with him exceptionally well and wants the present set-up to continue for a long time to come."

The 45-year-old Tebbetts, currently a leading "manager of the year" candidate for the job he has done with Cincinnati this season, has one more year to go under a three-year contract he signed with the Redlegs at the start of the 1955 campaign.

The Tigers and Indians are both shopping for new managers for the coming year and both "have made definite overtures in Tebbetts' direction," said the same source. Tebbetts and ex-Giant Manager Leo Durocher, as a matter of fact, have been the two most sought after pilots during the past three months.

Goodman Lost

CHICAGO, P.—Boxton Red Sox infielder Billy Goodman will be lost to the club for about a week because of a pulled tendon in his right knee. Goodman suffered the injury during Wednesday's game with the Chicago White Sox when he slid into third base in the first inning.

2 More for Willie

MAYS LANDING, N.J. (AP)—Willie Shoemaker opened up a four victory lead over idle Willie Hartack Wednesday when he accounted for two winners at Atlantic City. Shoemaker scored on Superb and Molly Maid to run his victory total for 1956 to 276.

Babe Ruth's 60th Home Run Hit on Curve, Pitcher Recalls

By DONALD F. MARTIN
United Press Sports Writer
GRAHAM, N. C. (AP)—"I threw him a good curve ball, the best I had but it wasn't good enough," Tom Zachary said today as his thoughts shifted back over the years to Yankee Stadium, Sept. 30, 1927.

"The Babe... he hit that ball so far nobody knew where it went," Zachary said. "There was nobody like Babe Ruth and he got his 60th home run off me."

The stage for the record blow was a dramatic one.

"There were two out in the eighth inning, the score was 1-1 and men on first and second and I had to pitch to him," Zachary said.

"I COULDN'T PUT the winning run on third. It was mighty hot and the count was 3 and 2. I had to get it over with something real on it."

"He hit it a mile and I stood there on the mound and yelled foul, but nobody would side with me."

Zachary's eyes were sort of grim as he recalled the pandemonium that followed Babe Ruth's mighty swat.

"I guess I could have thrown him one of my fast balls, but I didn't want him to get ahead of one of those," the 60-year-old tobacco farmer said. "He considered me one of his favorite pitchers, clipped me for seven or eight of those home runs of his in 10 years of pitching at him."

WHAT ABOUT MICKEY Mantle?

"I don't think Mickey will do it this year. But he might sometime."

Babe Zaharias Receives Top Cancer Award

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Cancer-stricken Babe Didrickson Zaharias Wednesday was named the person who contributed "the nation's most outstanding service to cancer education and control."

But the famed athlete was too ill to receive the Public Health Cancer Association of America's top award. Instead, Dr. William S. Brummage, president of the association, presented it to George Zaharias, her husband, and the Babe's sister, Mrs. Lillie Grimes of Beaumont, Tex.

"The Babe was thrilled," Zaharias said, "but she just didn't feel up to accepting the award personally."

'Bone-Head Play' Costs Thomson

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Bobby Thomson's futile attempt to steal home during the Milwaukee Braves 8-7 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers Wednesday cost the 32-year-old outfielder $100.

Manager Fred Haney revealed after the game that he had fined Thomson for "a real bone-head play."

Thomson attempted to steal home with the bases filled, two out and pinchhitter Chuck Tanner at the plate in the eighth inning. The Braves had just gone ahead, 8-7.
